

Parent-to-Parent Lessons Learned

Parents, do you really need toxic culture prevention? After all, you're busier than any generation of parents before you, and you're facing some of the most difficult circumstances for raising healthy, responsible children. And let's be honest, sometimes it's easier to sit back and just let kids be kids. After all, not every adolescent ends up pregnant or in jail, and not every child will become violent. Your child may experiment with drugs and alcohol and not be the 1 in 6 who gets addicted.

The Parent-to-Parent Program is now in its fifth version and has trained over 3 million parents worldwide. You will receive your own workbook and DVD FREE for attending 3 sessions.
